We Invite You to Grow With Growing Appomattox

It is not enough just to "claim to be a growing town." You must back up that claim with progressive and completely modern services to those who live and trade in your area.

Appomattox is a Growing Community because it meets this requirement. Proof of the business service available is found in the listings on this page. These home-town neighbors represent just the finest you will find anywhere. They are experienced and competent in the business activity in which they engage. You can trade with them, do business with them and share with them the joy of making your home community grow.

There is another point to be made, too.

Local business supports, sponsors and maintains a tremendous variety of civic activity. Our business people are frequently generous contributers to our churches, our schools, our local clubs and civic organizations. Every day you see evidence of what local business does for local community life. Drive by the high school recreational field, and see fine young boys neatly dressed in new uniforms and equipment, thrilling to the benefits from a summer recreational program. It makes you feel proud that the business people in our great County have financed this project. Make a check into the work of our other civic programs. Many of them have their basic backing in the fact that local business supports these worthy causes.

So ... be proud to do business in Growing Appomattox!

Everyone benefits ... but You benefit most of all, because you are HELPING YOURSELF.
